Student Costs Rise

Registration Fee Increase in '68

By JIM WILLS

Spartan Daily Staff Writer

A doubling in SJS application fees, a $120 increase in non-resident fees, and a $14 increase in materials and services fees (registration fee), will be the results of a newly clarified $25.9 million SJS operating budget for the 1967-1968 academic year.

The budget announcement was released by Glen Guttormsen, SJS business manager yesterday.

"Of the total $25.9 million figure, approximately $5.6 million will be covered by reimbursements and self-supporting programs," Guttormsen said.

The business manager indicated that a portion of these reimbursements and self-supporting programs will consist of increases in non-resident, materials and services, and applications fees in the coming academic year.

INCREASED FIGURE

Guttormsen viewed the figure as an increase over last year's $20.3 million allocation and Governor Reagan's original $20.1 million

"bare bones" proposal in January. The new figure will make possible gains of 33 positions administrative, technical and clerical positions including 11.4 full-time equivalent new instructional faculty appointments.

While the SJS budget, as part of the total proposed $187.3 million State College, is still pending a passage by the California legislature, SJS and the other State Colleges will plan the 1967-68 academic year on the latest proposal.

"The State Colleges simply can't wait until June to start planning for the new academic year," said the Chancellor's office yesterday.

COMPROMISE BUDGET

The $187.3 million state college budgetary figure was viewed as a compromise throughout the state between the governor's original $172 million proposal and the $233 million amount asked by the Board of Trustees.

Guttormsen indicated, that in lieu of the present situation SJS had "been given the go ahead on faculty hiring," but noted that non-faculty college personnel would not be negotiated with until a later date.

"There is a matter of urgency concerned in faculty hiring that is not present in non-faculty personnel recruitment," Guttormsen said.

While the hiring faculty situation has not been clarified on the state college or local level, faculty recruitment results are expected to be released by the Chancellor's office by the end of the week.

New Party In Election

Community for New Politics (CNP), student political group supporting the struggle for independence of the Vietnamese people, has announced its intention to sponsor a slate of candidates in the upcoming ASB election.

"The purpose of the CNP," according to chairman Ira Meltzer, "is to offer the possibility of a meaningful ASB government."

CNP, which ran unsuccessful candidates in the recent Berkeley municipal elections, requests students interested in working for CNP to attend a meeting tonight at 10 at 295 E. San Fernando St., apartment seven.

Anarchist

Rebel Appears Tonight

By VICKI MAY
Spartan Daily Staff Writer

The American Revolution, the French Revolution and the Russian Revolution. What about the "one man revolution?"

Ammon Hennacy, Catholic anarchist and general non-conformist, will explain his personal revolt tonight at 8 in Morris Dailey Auditorium.

Sponsored by the College Union Programs Board, Hennacy is the third in a series of speakers to appear this semester.

Hennacy's life has been a series of unrelenting protests, illustrated by his participation in numerous picket lines and fasts from the 1930's on.

"He has been an integral part of 20th century reform and protest movements," said Pete Ellis, a member of the College Union Programs Board.

"And Hennacy partakes in anti-war and other protest movements even today," concluded Ellis.

Hennacy has written two books, the first, "Autobiography of a Catholic Anarchist," which deals with the early part of his life. "The Book of Ammon," his latest book, is a probe into those forces in society that rob a man of his individuality.

Steve Allen, TV entertainer and author of the introduction in "The Book of Ammon" said, "Although it may come as a surprise to him Ammon is a superb historian."

"Most of us, even those in public life, tend to find our rut, live out our experiences within its confines, and become aware of the significant events of our time largely by reading or hearing about them."

"Ammon Hennacy has somehow managed to fall in amongst the marchers on the road to history."

In 1961 he organized and directed the Joe Hill House of Hospitality in remembrance of the martyrdom of Joe Hill, a Swede who wrote radical songs for the I.W.W. (The Industrial Workers of the World).

Hennacy thought that Hill was unjustly convicted and thus formed the resettlement house.

"He never pays taxes and has chosen to live in voluntary poverty," said Ellis. Hennacy has refused to pay taxes since 1944.

Now 74, he still wages his "one man revolution for individuality."

Speech Class Holds Daily Hearing Today

The Spartan Daily will go on trial in Morris Dailey Auditorium today at 12:30 p.m. in a hearing conducted by students of Speech 190.

"The hearing will involve the present campus issues of how the Spartan Daily should be financed and whether or not the Spartan Daily is fulfilling its responsibilities to the student community," according to Earl Hansen, senior representative on Student Council and member of the Speech 190 class.

Daily editor Jerry Townsend, managing editor Rick Skinner, executive editor Jim Brewer and representatives of the ASB government will answer questions posed by the five-member student board.

All interested students are urged to attend the hearing, Hansen said.

After presentations by the Daily and the ASB government reps, discussion will be opened to the audience.

"The audience will vote on the two questions involved and will make suggestions to be recorded and submitted to both the Daily and the ASB government," Hansen said.

Hansen commented that the purpose of the hearing is to "help determine student opinion on the top key questions concerning the Daily and the ASB, and to provide a meaningful dialogue among students, the ASB and the Spartan Daily."

In addition to the five member panel, two clerks will keep the minutes of the proceedings and conduct the vote on the two issues.

Spolter's PAB Veto Overridden by Council

By FRANCINE MILLER

Spartan Daily Staff Writer

Student Council once again voiced its approval of the Publications Advisory Board bill yesterday with a 12-3-1 decision to override veto of the legislation by ASB President Jerry Spolter.

Council last week passed the controversial bill establishing a seven-man committee to review and evaluate all ASB-funded publications despite efforts to have the document returned to second reading so it could be discussed with an "Independent Daily" proposal presented by representatives of the Spartan Daily.

DIRECT SUPPORT

The proposal, which Daily Editor Jerry Townsend asked council to consider for inclusion as a constitutional amendment on this month's ballot, calls for the establishment of the Daily as an independent campus newspaper directly receiving $125 of the $10 students will pay in activities fees each semester beginning next fall.

The Spartan Daily now receives approximately one-third of its more than $100,000 budget from allocation by Student Council. This year the Daily's portion of the ASB budget amounted to $30,000.

The "Independent Daily" proposal also requires that the Daily function with an advisory board similar to the one suggested by Graduate Representative Dick Miner and Senior Representative Ken Shackelford, co-authors of the Publications Advisory Board bill.

Spolter, in a message to council, asked the student legislature to rescind its action of the week before in order "to arrive at the most equitable and acceptable (to all parties) piece of legislation."

VETO MESSAGE

He added that in the event council did not act favorably on his recommendation, the letter would constitute a veto message. Although the ASB executive was absent from the meeting due to illness, he had empowered Council Chairman and ASB Vice President

Vic Lee to act in his behalf in signing the message so that written and signed notification of a veto could be presented to council.

It had been determined previously by ASB Chief Justice Steve Thomas that the president does not have the power of a pocket veto.

Discussing his reasons for asking council to rescind last week's action, Spolter commented in the letter that he felt the narrow victory of 9-7-0 at that time "cannot be construed as a mandate by Student Council in favor of the present proposal (PAB bill)."

He added that the vote did not represent any objection to the provisions of the bill, either, but rather "a genuine concern about the priority of adopting any proposal without full and complete investigation and deliberation," particularly in regard to the Daily proposal.

FAVORS BILL

Spolter, who said he is generally in favor of the council bill, however stated he failed to see any immediacy involved with adoption of the bill.

Shackelford, however, apparently did not agree with Spolter's last conclusion. Discussing the motion to override Spolter's veto, Shackelford related that he had talked to Academic Council Chairman Harold DeBey and that there was "no reason in the world," according to Shackelford, why the Publications Advisory Board could not be set up this spring so that it could appoint the Spartan Daily editor for next fall.

A motion by Shackelford was approved directing the president to have copies of the bill, now officially an act, distributed so that it can be acted on immediately.

Council Rep Resigns; Joins Growing List

Student Council yesterday lost its fifth member this semester when it heard a letter of resignation from Graduate Representative Ernest Gambrell.

Gambrell said he was resigning from council because he "could no longer go on as a member of council, handicapping myself and the council by trying to spread myself so thin, and inconveniencing both."

Gambrell's letter stated it would be impossible for him to remain on council since he cannot financially attend school and prepare for his education.

In a report by ASB Treasurer John Bruckman, council was told that the anticipated 1967-68 ASB activities fee income would be $374,883.20, a $79,898.32 increase over the 1966-67 activities fee income.

Council also voted 10-3-2 to allocate $207.63 to Dr. Dan Unruh from Intramural Sports for the 1966-67 school year to attend the National Intramural Association Conference April 24-27 in Annapolis, Maryland.

In other action, the council approved a resolution by the Campus Policy Committee to place before the women students of the ASB at the next general election questions concerning lockout and publicize to both the administration and the student body the results of the survey (election results). The resolution also asks that the results of the election become the basis for immediate revision, if indicated, of the campus regulation pertaining to SJS approved housing.

Earl Hansen, senior representative, presented a resolution to council questioning the legality of the Publication Advisory Board bill. Hansen asked that legality of the bill be decided by SJS students in the next ASB general election. The resolution was referred to the finance committee, which meets today at 3:30.

With the approval of council, the following persons were appointed by ASB President Jerry Spolter to the Student Activities Board: Bruce Greenberg, Fred Walter, Garth Steen and Bill Langan.

Music Department To Demonstrate Institute Program

SJS will be host to four member schools of the Western Regional Institute for Music in Contemporary Education tomorrow and Saturday.

Representatives from the University of Southern California, Arizona State University, and the California State Colleges at Hayward and San Diego will be at SJS to demonstrate the individual institute programs at their schools. Tomorrow from 8:15-10:00 p.m. a joint concert of works by composers at member schools will be performed by artists from the schools. "Concertino for Bassoon and String Trio," by Dr. Wilson Coker, SJS associate professor of music, will be performed by four SJS faculty members.

In addition, each school will present a program in Concert Hall: SJS from 10:30-12:00 a.m., U.S.C. from 1:30-3:00 p.m., and Hayward State from 3:30-5:00 p.m. on Friday.

Funeral Services

Funeral services for 19-year-old John M. Napoleon, found dead in his off-campus apartment Monday, are set tomorrow at Roller and Hapgood Funeral Home, Palo Alto, at 10 a.m.

Interment will be at Alta Mesa Cemetery.

Napoleon, sophomore biological sciences major from Menlo Park, was found dead in his room early Monday morning, lying next to a sack containing a poison bottle and an empty pain pill bottle. His roommates told police Napoleon had been despondent over the death of his girl friend last October.

The death has been termed "apparent suicide" by the Santa Clara County Coroner's office. Officials said toxicology tests, which determine the cause of death, will be returned within a month.

Nobel Winner Talks Tonight

Nobel Prize laureate Dr. Joshua Lederberg will speak this evening on "Molecular Biology and Man" at 7:30 in E132.

Dr. Lederberg received the Nobel Prize in 1958 for his studies on the organization of genetic material in bacteria. All interested students are invited.

"Dr. Lederberg will speak in terms of ramifications in modern biology and its effect on everyday living and human activities," said Dr. H. James Akiyama, assistant professor of microbiology.

"Dr. Lederberg knows he will be speaking to a student group so the lecture won't be above the heads of the audience," continued Dr. Akiyama. "The subject won't be narrow but will have broad implications. Discussion will not be highly detailed and everyone is invited to attend."

Dr. Lederberg is presently director of Kennedy Laboratories for Molecular Medicine at Stanford University.

He was born in Montclair, N.J., in 1925, received his B.A. from Columbia University in 1944 and his Ph.D. from Yale University in 1947.

Grid Practice In Full Swing; Squad of 100

Emphasizing offensive plays and formations, SJS' gridgers will bring their first week of spring practice to a close Saturday with the initial inter-squad scrimmage.

Coach Harry Anderson's squad of approximately 100 is holding its fifth practice today since last Saturday, and will continue to work on offensive techniques and defensive fundamentals.

Next week the Spartan mentors will reverse the process with all personnel working on defensive plays and offensive fundamentals.

Anderson pointed out that the size of the group at this stage in the practice makes it extremely difficult to organize the sessions so that each gridger will get the most out of each practice.

"During the first week we have placed many players into positions that don't fit them, so there will be plenty of juggling through next week. This is due to the fact that we know very little about some of the aspirants, but after a few scrimmages things will begin to fall in place," the Spartan coach added.

Milkshake Rewards

By JIM STREET
Spartan Daily Sports Editor

Bud Winter usually spends some of his time during the week making milkshake vendors happy, but this week business has been slow.

The Spartan head track coach rewards his troops with a milkshake whenever they break a certain mark he or his assistant Tracy Walters set for them.

"We have been doing this for several years," Winter said. "It gives the team a good moral boost."

"Right now our milkshake rewarding has reached a low level," he added, which gives an indication of how far the Spartans are behind schedule because of the weather.

BACK TO WORK

The Spartans will attempt to get back on the training trail Saturday. "We must have a meet this week," Winter simply but emphatically stated.

Santa Clara Youth Village traveled to Eugene, Ore., last weekend where it was supposed to rain—but it didn't. The Spartans will be hoping that the SCYV brought some good weather back with it.

In addition to those two clubs, Walters will send his freshman team against the varsity contingents.

Winter said that the coaches timed some of the tracksters at Monday's workout and in many cases the athletes were behind their pace before Christmas.

But at that time, the Spartans were engaged in the indoor season and Winter advised that the rainouts could be a blessing in disguise.

"The season gets pretty long about the first of May," he contended, "and the team will now try to get sharper sooner."

The outdoor season officially started Feb. 25, but since then, SJS has competed in only one bonafide track meet. That was in early March when the Santa Clara Youth Village and some members of the University of California competed on the Spartan track.

Several of the Spartans competed in the Easter Relays at Santa Barbara the following week, but didn't perform at their best.

If the weather is good for Saturday's meet, Winter hinted that the Spartans will go full speed, in at least one event.

"We want them running hard if the conditions are suitable."

A busy weekend is on tap for the runners with Tommie Smith and Lee Evans leading the way. Smith is set for the 100 and 200-yard dashes and will anchor the 440 and mile relay teams. Evans, who has been seen running in the recent rainshowers, but will try to limit his workouts to the track Saturday. He will be competing in the 440, which may be the best race of the day, the 220 and also run a split in the two relay teams.

GRADS ENTERED

In the 440, Evans will be facing an old rival in more than just the sense of the word. Jack Yerman, the grand ol' man of the raceways, still runs like a youngster, and will try to use his fast finish to upset Evans.

Many of the eyes will be focused on former Spartan athletes like Jeff Chase and Les Bond. Chase is getting better with age and was one of the best pole vaulters during the indoor campaign.

His battle with SJS' Chris Papanicolaou reached greater heights Monday when the Athens, Greece native jumped 16-5 in practice.

The vault was especially a welcome sight to Winter as Papanicolaou has been badly hampered with a thigh injury for more than a month.

Chase lists a 16-7 vault as his personal record with Papanicolaou possessing a 16-6-3/4.

NEARS RECORD

Bond is currently the holder of the SJS triple jump record and will be facing the person most likely to surpass his mark.

Dwight Tucker, a Spartan for only two months is threatening to get in the school record books in the triple jump. He leaped over 50 feet in his last match, only two feet short of Bond's record.

Rickey Rogers and Bill Fowler will join Tucker and Bond in the triple jump and each is given a good chance to defeat the duo. Rogers has leaped 49-5 for his best mark, while Fowler shows a 49-2 jump. The final entrant for SJS in the triple jump will be Cornelius Frazier with his best mark being 48 feet.

READY TO RESUME ACTION — Rich Arcide, a junior and returning javelin thrower on the SJS track team this season, has the same feeling as his teammates for Saturday's track meet — eager to compete. The Spartans will play host to the SJS frosh and Santa Clara Youth Village at 1:30 on the Spartan track.

Spartan Judokas Set For AAU Title Match

Although no official odds have been listed, it is a safe bet that the Central Coast judo team will be favored to repeat as winners in the 1967 AAU judo championships tomorrow and Saturday in Las Vegas.

Leading the Central Coast team, which is composed of top judokas from Central California Colleges and judo clubs, is SJS Coach Yosh Uchida and a contingent of 14 SJS students and graduates.

Heading the many outstanding judoists on the Central Coast team is Yuzo Koga, a former NCAA champion, and the defending AAU 139-pound division champion. Koga is a senior at SJS, but has used up his collegiate eligibility.

He will be pressed in the lightweight division by Susumu Kodani, one of the many outstanding transfer students at SJS this year.

Another top transfer, Norio Aryma, heads a list of SJS entrants in the 154-pound division that also includes Haruki Takemoto, Gary Martin, Bob Zambetti and Bill Gouin. The latter two were important members of the Spartans' NCAA championship team last year.

Larry Dobashi, 1965 NCAA 180-pound champion leads a list of SJS entrants in the 176-pound division that includes Jim Pennington, Yugi Morya and John Kimura.

Another pair of top Spartan performers from a year ago, Bill Knaske and Keith Pickard headline the Central Coast 205-pound entrants. Pickard, now a junior, is one of the top performers on this year's varsity.

Two time NCAA champion Howard Fish is the top Central Coast heavyweight entry.

On April 15-16 the biggest collegiate tournament of the year, the NCAA championships, will be held in Spartan Gym.

It will be the first time that SJS has ever played host for the tournament, although they have won the championship for the past five consecutive years.

War Games Scheduled For USF Encounter

Rain fizzled the fuse on the Spartan H-bomb yesterday, and baseball General Ed Sobczak will revise his battle plans somewhat for tomorrow's invasion of USF.

Instead of Pete Hoskins and Bob Holmes, who were scheduled to start against St. Mary's yesterday, Sobczak will call on Frank Pangborn and Rich Kemmerle to pitch against the Dons.

Actually the rain might have benefited an injury-weakened SJS hurling staff, which must face a pair of hard hitting teams, the University of California and Washington State, Saturday.

The extra time will be especially beneficial to Holmes, who still has a sore wrist, and probably would have missed yesterday's pitching turn even if St. Mary's baseball diamond hadn't been turned into a trout stream.

Also on the sore-arm list is Bronco-beater Rod Christiansen. The sophomore curve ball artist has been bothered by a sore arm off and on all season, but expects to be ready for a starting assignment Saturday.

SOLID HITTING TEAM
In USF, the Spartans will be meeting a solid hitting team that likes to run.

The twin bill will be the first meeting of the year between the two teams. The Dons were supposed to play a doubleheader at Municipal Stadium last Friday, but rain forced postponement of that encounter which will be played here Saturday, April 29.

Yesterday's rain-out will be played in Moraga Friday, April 14. Aside from the pitchers, the Spartan line-up for the Don game will be the same as was to have started against the Gaels.

Ray Valconesi and Al Taylor, two of SJS' most consistent hitters, will be the catchers.

INFIELD STARTERS
Bart Spina, Tony Hernandez, Tom Brandi and John Bessa will start in the infield, with Charlie Nave, Bob Burrill and Gary Stepansky in the outfield.

Of late, the Spartans have been relying heavily on the bat and leg work of center fielder Burrill.

The shortest Spartan at 5-8, Burrill had a particularly good two-game set against UOP Saturday.

Leading off in the first game he singled, stole second, advanced to third on a wild pitch, and dashed home when the UOP catcher messed up Gary Stepansky's slow roller in front of the plate.

Taking advantage of the slow infield at Spartan Field, he also laid down two bunt singles later in the game.

Replacing the injured Ken Jones in the third inning of the second game, he drove in two of the three Spartan runs with a clutch single.

Saturday Christiansen and either Hoskins or Holmes will hurl as the Spartans play host for a three-team triple header at Municipal Stadium.

The University of California will meet the Spartans in a noon opening game, and Washington State will test the Bears in a 3 p.m. follow-ups. SJS and WSU then meet in a 7 p.m. nightcap.

Swim Fins Highlight Baseball Gear

Standard playing equipment for freshman baseball players this year includes bats, balls, gloves, shoes, snorkels and swim fins.

Actually the latter two items are optional since the Spartababes have managed to stay out of the water this year simply by not playing when it rains — which has been often.

Yesterday the SJS frosh lost its fifth and sixth decisions of the year to the weatherman, when wet grounds forced postponement of a scheduled game against the University of California beginners.

Weather permitting, the game will be played today on the Spartan diamond at 3 p.m.

Southpaw Gary Enos will be the starter for Coach Bill Gustafson's Spartababe nine today, as it tries to improve on a 2-7 won-lost record.

SJS lost an 8-4 decision to the Cal frosh earlier this year, but managed to salvage something from the defeat, by pulling off five double plays, four of them going from shortstop Tom Corder to second baseman Mickey Franssen to first baseman Terry Sutfin.

Friday, pitcher Jay Pike leads the Spartababes against the Stanford frosh in another 3 p.m. contest on the SJS home diamond.

The Quacker Box

By LEW ARMISTEAD
Sports Editor

Assistant basketball coach Stan Morrison may be taller than Charlie Brown, but other than that there is a marked and sometimes frightening resemblance.

One of Morrison's duties is recruiting, normally a time consuming but safe job. However, when Morrison sets out to do something, there's no stopping him.

Recently, he embarked on Yreka High School to woo 6-7 Al Graves and speak at the high school awards banquet.

Mission accomplished he set out for San Jose with a smile on his face and a full stomach, leaving at 8 a.m.

Dunsmuir, however, was having one of its greatest March snow storms, which proved to be the first of many experiences that Morrison isn't about to forget. He remembers whenever he thinks how much his medicine is costing.

GOV. REAGAN'S AUTOMOBILE

"I was going up a pretty good grade in one of Gov. Reagan's cars," Morrison reported, "when the now infamous No. 6 saw fit not to run."

Athletic person that he is and seeing no other way, Morrison commenced to hike the eight miles back to Dunsmuir with his thumb sticking out.

His hitchhiking efforts proved in vain as all he accomplished was getting splashed with the dirty water as cars passed rapidly. "After two miles, when I was just becoming enchanted with the squishing sound the water made in my shoes, I finally got a ride and made it back to the motel by 9 a.m."

"I got a tow truck by 9:20 and buzzed back the eight miles to the car by 12:30. There were a number of accidents on the way, and since smashed cars have priority over stalled cars, we hauled back eight including one police car before even reaching mine."

ON ROAD ONCE MORE

It was finally discovered that the car had faulty points, which were replaced, and Morrison was on the road to San Jose once more.

Then suddenly a double diesel truck coming from the rear decides to pass Morrison. The first section of the truck makes it, but instead of following the first trailer, the second slides toward Morrison's auto.

Stan's tire was forced to the shoulder on a fairly steep grade. "Being a former driver's ed teacher, I knew just what was going to happen."

Since he was headed for the wrong end of a cliff, Morrison had to let the car go through one full spin before trying to pull it straight. He finally settled for the crashing into the side of the mountain.

"The snow was thick enough so that the car wasn't damaged—it it was just facing the wrong way."

CAR GIVES UP AGAIN

Pulling into Red Bluff, the car broke down again, but that was minor considering what was to happen next. It was found that the points were put in wrong, and Morrison was on his way again hoping to go past Sacramento before having dinner and refueling.

Coming to a long series of gas stations, he pulled over carefully choosing a Union station so he could use his state credit card.

"By now I'm just as sick as I have ever been and I'm just concentrating on driving the car straight. I pulled in, shut my eyes and told the attendant to fill it up. Then I opened my eyes and saw the Union sign one station down."

Morrison jumped out of the car and shut off the hose just as $2.76 was registering. Quickly checking the cash on hand, Stan found $2.80 in proposed dinner money. So he paid for the gas and settled for an hour's sleep behind the station.

"But I dreamt that when I reached the Carquinez Bridge, I didn't have any money for the toll. I immediately woke up and realized it was the truth."

His honest face was able to borrow a quarter from the station attendant, and Morrison somehow returned to SJS to recruit another day.

Morrison's reaction, "Good grief."

Intramurals

BASKETBALL
Four clutch free throws by Dave Galos gave Sigma Nu a 50-48 overtime victory over Basketball Incorporated last night, to even the best-of-three series at one game apiece in the All-College Intramural Championships.

The deciding contest will go to-night at 8 o'clock in the Men's Gym Basketball Incorporated won the first game Tuesday night, 61-52.

Knotted 21-21 at half, the lead continued to change hands in the second period until Rich Regua's two free throws with two seconds remaining sent the game into the extra period at 46-all.

Galos led the victors with 13 counters on two field goals and nine charity tosses, while Greg Delany topped the losers with 15 points.

The game was in complete contrast to the first game when B.B. Inc. dominated the rebounding. "Sigma Nu showed good hustle and strong rebounding, and played one of their best games of the year," Intramural Director Dan Unruh pointed out.
